

CALL FOR PAPERS

2020 ITALIAN STATA CONFERENCE

Milano, 12-13 Novembre 2020

The 2020 edition of the Italian Stata Conference will take place in Milano. Stata users working in different research areas, will, once again enjoy a unique opportunity to exchange ideas, experiences and information on user written routines and applications developed in Stata.

As in previous years, the meeting will focus on:

- the development of new user written commands and/or procedures currently unavailable in Stata.
- the use of Stata in previously unpublished empirical research. Examples of research adopting commands/methodologies new to Stata 16, are particularly welcome.
- other applications of Stata of general interest, such as data management, tips and tricks for exporting Stata output for publication or teaching with Stata, are also welcomed.

The second day of the conference, will be dedicated to our annual Stata training course, details of which will be posted shortly to the Stata Conference web page.
